

vencer o adamastor

Five editions past the Cape of Storms

Applications are now open for the 5th edition of "The Adamastor Award".

SHARE PAST LAUREATES THE AWARD

"The Adamastor Award", from INESC in partnership with the newspaper Público, recognises innovative work by young scientists in electrotechnics, computing and related fields, developed at institutions based in Portugal. The winning work must combine scientific excellence with the potential for meaningful impact on society. Endowed with €20,000.

Gonçalo Correia - "Compact and Transparent Models of Neural Networks Based on Sparse Representations"

Manuel Goulão - "Post-Quantum Secure Multi-Party Computation: Cryptography Fighting for a More Private and Egalitarian Future"

Pedro Orvalho - "MENTOR: Automated Feedback for Introductory Programming Exercises"

Sérgio Jesus "Robust Assessment of Fairness and Explainability in Artificial Intelligence"

If you lead a department, a research centre or a doctoral programme, share this award with your researchers, doctoral students and grant holders.

APPLICATIONS CLOSE ON 26 OCTOBER 2026

Rules and application @ inesc.pt